

International College Newsletter

We Are The World, The World Is Ours

Welcome IBA Class of 2019!

On September 10, we kicked off our second year of Tunghai University's International College Business Administration Program with an orientation to welcome the class of 2019. This year we are excited to have forty-seven new students join the returning second year students. Of the forty-seven new first years, thirty-seven represent various cities across Taiwan and ten are international students from Mainland China, Indonesia, and Malaysia. We look forward to seeing the diversity, creativity, and innovation this new class will bring!

As part of the orientation, Vice President Chao spoke to the students about his vision for the Tunghai International Business Administration program to reintroduce the spirit of the liberal arts education to Tunghai

University. The program seeks to teach students to think for themselves, communicate effectively, and develop a passion for learning to engage in the world around them.

The students met the professors who will be teaching their first year courses, followed by an introduction to the many study abroad opportunities the program offers for all sophomore, junior, and senior students. The students finished the day by receiving their student cards, making them officially ready to start their college experience at Tunghai University!

Meet the New Mentors

Greeting the Parents

As the students arrived on campus on September 6, we invited them and their families to a meet and greet in the International College office. We were very pleased with the turnout as we met the majority of students and their parents. The afternoon was a great opportunity for the student's families to familiarize themselves with the staff of the program and for us to express our enthusiasm for this upcoming year!

As the International College welcomes its' second class into the International Business Administration program, we also welcome two new Trinity mentors to the program. Danny Doherty and Rachel Maceross both graduated from Trinity University in May of this year and will work with the IBA program for the 2015-2016 academic school year. Danny majored in Political Science with a minor in Chinese and will be the mentor for the sophomore class. Rachel majored in Business Administration and Chinese Studies and will be the mentor for the freshman class.

